DRILL.—The Engineers will meet for drill at 7.30.

AWAY DOWN.—Oats are selling in Chatham, N. B., at 24 cents per bushel.

CITY TAXES.—Those whose taxes are still unpaid should get their receipts at once and avoid any possibility of having their names published or executions issued. About fifty executions are to be delivered to-morrow. Pay up.

L. O. A.—Regular meeting of St. George's Lodge No. 1171, in Euston Street Hall, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are requested to be present. Important business. Members of sister Lodges are cordially invited.

SCOTT ACT.—Two more new Scott Act summonses have been served, both of which are returnable on Monday next. Angus Macdonald got one, charging a third infraction, and Annie Hynes was presented with one charging a second infraction.

IS THIS TRUE?—There is a rumor afloat in Montreal to the effect that Sir Oliver Mowatt will be appointed the Canadian judge on the judicial committee of the privy council, and as the Imperial statute does not provide a salary, the Canadian government will vote $10,000 per year.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT.—The Halifax Herald says: A few months ago a Falmouth man when on a visit to this city met a young woman. It was love at first sight, and the marriage came soon after. Yesterday the S. P. C. received a letter from the wife charging the husband with cruelty. She alleges that he beat her and threatened to throw her into the river.

HEARTZ'S HALL.—A concert will be given at Heartz's Hall an Thursday evening, Oct. 15, by the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian Church, Great George Street, when several prominent ladies and gentlemen of the city will take part in the program. The admission will be 15 cents. Tickets are for sale at M. Stevenson's and L. W. Harris' tin stores, and they may also be obtained from members of the committee.

FINES IMPOSED.—Before A. Lord, fishery officer, today, John Cantello, of Flat River, was fined $20 or one month's imprisonment for fishing lobsters out of season. James Taylor, jr, of St. Peter's Island, was also fined a similar amount for the same offence. In the case of Daniel McLean and Samuel Nicholson, of Point Prim, against whom a similar offence was charged, one fine of $20 was imposed. In the case of Donald McLean, Neil McLean and Angus McLean, also of Point Prim, one fine of $20 was also imposed. Several other cases stand over.

CRANBERRIES.—Notwithstanding the fact that June frost destroyed nearly half the prospective crop of cranberries in the valley, the yield this year is very large. Harry Shaw has gathered 100 barrels from a two acre bog where undoubtedly he would have had 200 barrels had it not been for the frost. He estimates the total yield for the two counties for not less than 3,000 barrels. Montreal provides a market for the whole crop, and besides imports largely from the United States. But the duty of about $1 a barrel gives the home grower the full benefit of protection. It is expected that about $5 per bbl. will be the net returns, or $15,000 on the whole yield.—Kentville Advertiser.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Frank Harvey's powerful drama, "The Wages of Sin," was presented by the Ethel Tucker Company last evening in a splendid manner. The audience was surprisingly large considering the rainy weather, and the applause which rang through the hall testified to the appreciation of all present. The performance was a distinct success from an artistic standpoint, for never before in Charlottetown was "The Wages of Sin" so well played as it was last evening. Miss Tucker played the part of "Ruth Hope" excellently. She is certainly an actress of ability, and wins new admirers each time she appears. Supported as she is by Mr. Meldon and his company of specially-selected players, she should attract large audiences. There was not a weak character in last night's cast, therefore individual mention would, perhaps, be unfair. We shall therefore refrain from singling out any character when all were so well impersonated.

Between the acts the Lawrence Sisters, Miss Eva Westcott and Mr. Brennan delighted the audience with songs and dances, and an efficient orchestra rendered choice music.

This afternoon there will be a matinee at the Opera House, when the comedy-drama, "An Unequal Match," will be presented. To-night the brilliant military drama "Rosedale" will be played, with a detachment of the Engineers assisting in the production.

MUSICAL.—Miss Burris, Great George Street, has re-opened her classes for instruction in piano and violin music.

MARRIED

At Boat-of-Garten, Scotland, on 15th Sept., by Rev. Walter R. Ross Rev. James R. McKay, Presbyterian minister, Souris, P. E. I., to Annie Grant Geddes, Abernethy, Strathspey.

At the Manse, Belfast, Sept. 30th, by Rev. A. McLean Sinclair, David McRae, South Pinette, to Julia Ann, only daughter of Mr. John L. Morrison.

DIED.

At the residence of her daughter, Mrs Nathanial A. Mitchell, on the 7th inst., Jane Feavyour, widow of the late John Feavyour of North Wiltshire, aged 87 years.

[Funeral to-morrow, Thursday at 12 o'clock to North Wiltshire.]

Mrs, Roderick Stewart, of Belle River, P. E. I., departed this life on Saturday, Sept. 26, 1896, in the 54th year of her age, leaving a husband, three sons and five daughters to mourn their loss. Mrs. Stewart professed to have been converted eighteen months ago, during which she gave evident signs of her profession being genuine. She loved the Lord, whom she daily recommended to others, not only by her words, but also by her humble resignation to the will of God. We sympathize with the bereaved husband and family and pray that her Christian influence in the family may bring forth the fruit she so earnestly prayed for.

PASSING OF THE BIRTHDAY.

Why It is Lost From the Lives of Unmarried Women.

Constance Conrad, writing on "Forgotten Anniversaries" in the September Ladies' Home Companion, says:—

"First of all there are the birthdays of unmarried women. I know they do not have any. I have heard them say so many times, sometimes with a cheery laugh, but often with a half regretful intonation. The generally accepted belief is that when an unmarried woman has passed the years of youthful freshness, she prefers to have her added years ignored. There may be some reason for this belief in individual cases, but a little thought may lead us to a different view for the majority. When did these women cease to have birthdays? The year they ceased was, in most cases, just one year later than the one which had been celebrated in some happy fashion. If we could know some of the unwritten histories, we would find one woman's stopped the year after her young lover died—that changed everything in life for her; another's when she started out alone to earn her living among strangers, with no one about her to mark lovingly or remember kindly the day of the year that a baby girl was sent, years before, to gladden the old farm house.

"Still another date dropped from its honored place when the last brother or sister married and left the old home, and in forming many new ties let some of the old ones slip. Or in many cases when the gray-haired mother passed to her eternal rest, the first to rejoice and the last to remember had gone, and perchance a boarding house instead of a home was the survivor's abiding place in years to come. * * * The tendency in married life is toward increasing family ties; in unmarried life they steadily decrease, so that the woman who, in her younger years, may have been the center of a large and loving family circle, may find her later years lonely ones, except as she interests herself in others' joys and sorrows. That many an 'unappropriated blessing,' as I have heard unmarried women called, is appropriated by the many instead of the few is true; that their lives are often full and hearty, loving service to all who need them is also true; but while we accept gratefully what is so cheerfully given, do not let us forget that in spite of all disclaimer on their part there are few women who are not the happier for knowing that some one, even though it be but a little child, with its odd little present, has cared to remember their birthday."

Ballooning at Sea.

The French navy is now being fitted out with vessels which are to carry on the science of ballooning at sea. A French cruiser, the Sfax, belonging to the Mediterranean squadron, has been fitted out expressly for experiments with balloons. The balloon itself is kept on deck in a half inflated condition. It does not take up much space of itself, but the equipment necessary for proper balloon work demands a good deal of room. Whenever it may be deemed necessary to learn of the presence of vessels in the neighborhood of the French squadron, the balloon will be inflated and sent up; and its occupants will thus have a view of a far greater extent of ocean than could be seen from the deck or mast of a vessel.

Steel and Stone.

An experiment with a view to ascertain the relative resistance, under pressure, of the hardest steel and the hardest stone, was recently made at Vienna. Small cubes, measuring 1 cm. of corundum and of the finest steel, were subjected to the test. The corundum broke under the weight of six tons, but the steel resisted up to forty-two tons. The steel split up with a noise like the report of a gun, breaking into a powder, and sending sparks in every direction, which bored their way into the machine like shot.

SKIN DISEASES!

One Remedy Which has Never Failed—Tried and Tested Ointment.

Because other alleged remedies for piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, chafing, black heads, salt rheum and skin diseases generally have proved useless, don't condemn Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. For instance, Nelson Simmons, Meyersburg, Ont., writes:

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itching Piles, and can recommend it highly. Since using it I have had perfect freedom from the disease."

Peter Vanallen, L'Amable, Que., had the eczema for three years. He tried three doctors, but received no benefit. One box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Pills cured him completely. Large scales covered his legs and body, but the Ointment soon removed them. He will swear to these facts.

Chase's Ointment may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto. Price 60 cents.

Mother's greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung affections is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The medicinal taste is wholly disguised making it pleasant to take. Large bottle 25 cents.
