THE GOVERNMENT AND OUR FARMERS

It has been well remarked that the government at Ottawa "squeezes the farmer at every turn." The farmer's is the only great interest in this country that is not now protected. One of the few changes in the tariff was the removal of the protective duty on corn. Corn now comes in free, and brings no revenue to the Government. The result was the importation last year, from the United States—which takes not a bushel of our grain—of 19,976,000 bushels of corn as against 3,017,000 bushels upon which duty was paid,—relieving the taxpayers—in 1896. This corn takes the place, to a large extent, of our oats and keeps down the price of oats. Under present conditions our farmers cannot obtain a high price for their oats unless their should be a failure of the corncrop of the United States. In the face of this fact, the government favors dealers in binder twine, of the Liberal party, enabling them to profit to the extent of thousands upon thousands of dollars at the farmer's expense.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Montreal Times remarks that "The Laurier government's editorial factory is still in good working order. The leading editorial in Thursday's St. John Telegraph, exonerating the West Huron election officials from blame, appears word for word in the Halifax Chronicle as "special Ottawa correspondence."

—Commenting upon the latest proposed expenditures of the Liberal Government, the Huntingdon Gleaner reminds those responsible that "it was the Liberals who stayed at home who defeated Mercier," and adds, "a like fate follows Laurier." The handwriting is on the wall, but Belshazzar is too intoxicated by his surroundings to read it.

—That was good comment of the late Professor Jewett, as regards the Queen of England, who has in her time exercised a personal power quite well known to the men of cabinet rank in England, not merely on matters of mere rank and titles, but in matters of foreign policy and domestic politics: "She will bequeath to her successor the Royal prerogatives in a state of healthy activity. If he should prove to be a man of strong will, he will show that democracy has not undermined fatally the monarchial form of Government"

—A Western contemporary remarks that: "There seems to be a cheat in everything at Ottawa. The Government boasted that it was putting an end to the sweating system in so far as its contracts were concerned. When a contractor for military clothing undertook to do the work he had to do it in his factory, and not sub-let it to others to do at their homes. But it turns out that after giving the contract to a firm of political friends in Montreal, with the special provision against sweating in it, the Government authorized the contractor to violate the terms and to sweat as usual. The prices were higher because the sweating was prohibited, but the sweating was authorized all the same and the higher prices were paid.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES

Mail and Empire: When a $60,000,000 Government has charge of a $40 000,000 country, either one or the other is likely to go to smash.

Dundas Star: What a godsend it would be for the country if another Alexander McKenzie should appear at the treasury door with a shotgun.

Halifax Herald: The Grits have conspicuous capacity for government in a country with free representative institutions. In witness of this it only necessary to note the record of the Grit returning officer who voted twenty-eight times in one day and got $500 and a free pass out of the country for the job.

Montreal Star: "The country has grown used to seeing the Liberal leaders repudiate their pledges and turn their backs on their sincerest professions.

They are drunk with unaccustomed power, and they have forgotten the principles they once set up so solemnly as the buttresses of Liberalism.

It is a disgusting spectacle, and by it the whole political class have suffered—unjustly—in public esteem.

But the country has ceased to wonder at it—the worthlessness of Liberal pledges has become a bye-word.

Consequently to arraign the Liberals for scattering public money riotously when they carried the elections on promises of economy is to cry up an old spectacle,

But it is a different thing when the 'beggars on horseback' threaten to break—not only their pledges—but the prosperity of the country and the financial backs of the taxpayers."

Which Shall it Be ?

Which shall it be, lads ? which shall it be?
God, or the devil, bond or free ?
Will you boldly and cheerfully take your stand
With the chosen few, with the noble band,
Who are steadfastly doing all they can
For God and the right and fallen man?
Or will you sink, debased and blind,
To herd with the ruck of human kind ?
God, or the devil, bond or free—
Which shall it be, lads ? which shall it be ?
Which shall it be ? The home-life sweet
Gay with the patter of tiny feet;
Or the squalid tap-room, grimy and grim,
The drunkard's curse, or the children's hymn ?
Wrecked lives, or the strength that never flags,
Peace and plenty, or ruin and rags ?
Bible or beer-shop, bond or free—
Which shall it be, lads ? which shall it be ?
Which shall it be? Two paths lie here—
The right leads upwards, the left, ah! where ?
Others may give you counsel true,
But the choice, dear lads, is for you, for you !
And remember now in your boyhood's prime
Is the turning-point and the seeding-time;
The sot's bent back, or the saint's bent knee—
Which shall it be, lads ? which shall it be ?

The big, hearty healthy man is a continual irritation to his dyspeptic friend. Constipation is the root of nine-tenths of sickness of men, and of a large proportion of the sickness of women. It can be cured easily, naturally and quickly. Nature is continually working as hard as she can to throw off impurities, and to force out poisonous refuse matter When there is an impediment, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets set the wheels working again without any trouble. They assist nature in a gentle, healthful, efficient way. There is nothing violent about their action and yet it is just as certain as if it were twice as violent. "You do not become a slave to their use." They are different and better than any other pill for the cure of constipation, headache and kindred derangements. Almost all druggists understand this, and are conscientious enough to tell you so. The druggist who tries to sell you a substitute is not a safe man from whom to buy medicine.

The Peoples' Druggist

Drugs are expensive, Sometimes they are more expensive than need be.

And sometimes they are not so reliable as they ought to be.

There was a time when the prices of drugs were away up—too high altogether.

That is not the case now. The Apothecaries Hall changed that some time ago.

You can get perscriptions from pure drugs at the proper prices— no fancy profits

You can get all my reliable special remedies; they've been tried and found effective.

The price — the main thing —will be found right in every case.
