Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur
Do you know how Kitchener got its name? The story goes back to the first world war when manufacturers began getting complaints that they couldn't sell things with a Berlin tag. Even newspapers in surrounding towns spoke of Berlin as being pro-German.

Something had to be done right away about it as the city was split over the issue. Finally the citizens voted to change the name and believe it or not, Kitchener was chosen from thousands of names submitted in a city-sponsored contest. And Kitchener was named for the famous British soldier and war minister in World War I, Earl Kitchener.

Today Kitchener boasts of being Ontario's sixth city, founded by Mennonites from Pennsylvania, it marks its 100th anniversary this year.

Injured by a rugged German people, forced by public opinion to change its name in 1916, the city has grown into one of the most highly industrialized centres in Canada. The present population is 52,773.

The community had its beginning 148 years ago when Abraham Weber rode through Indian country to select land for a farm. Soon others drove their covered wagons up from Pennsylvania to settle on land under the British flag which they felt gave them better security for their homes and their religion.

And so they founded Berlin which today is called Kitchener. Interesting is it not?

Did you know that certain insects kill themselves with their own body fluids. It's a fact. Take for example, the aphids and the squash bugs. And of course there are many others. What is perhaps more amazing, deadly new insecticides can be made from the bugs.

A tendency toward irritability on the part of superiors.

Time spent during the afternoon and evening reviewing matters concerning your job or household could save trouble and expense later.

For Tomorrow
SUNDAY'S outlook is a promising one. Seek relaxation with loved ones in congenial surroundings. Courtship and romance are favored and home and family matters should be unusually harmonious. You should find great pleasure in entertaining and otherwise showing hospitality — especially where elders and children are concerned.

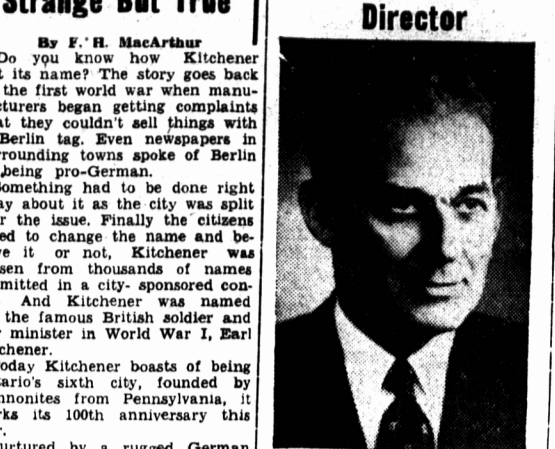

If tomorrow is your birthday, you are now in the midst of a cycle in which mixed influences prevail so, for the next three months, it might be wise to put off major decisions and the initiation of new programs. And, regardless of how confident you are about occupational duties, guard against making careless mistakes. A stern, down-to-earth attitude will not only be helpful to you but will impress superiors.

During December, time and effort spent in planning for the future, both where career and finances are concerned, could yield valuable results. Be cautious if traveling early in September and be on guard against conflicts in personal relationships throughout the fall months.

A child born on this day will be cheerful, enthusiastic and optimistic in the face of all obstacles.

The Day After Tomorrow
Follow a conservative policy in all activities on Monday. In business relationships, go out of your way to promote harmony and cordiality — especially during the morning hours when there may be

HAROLD M. TURNER

President, Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., has been elected to the Board of Directors of The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Gordon C. Leitch.

An organic compound, called schrodan, can be converted into an active form within the fat bodies of the bugs, causing sure and rapid death. Scientists at the Science Service Lab have isolated this active form of the compound and have been able to convert schrodan chemically into a new insecticide.

The strain of decorating the home can give some women the jitters.

It must be a tough job on any woman's nerves most men will freely admit. And it's a rare woman who suffers no minor crisis from it. It can involve many conflicts and aspects of her personality. The stress and strain may revive old neurotic conflicts, and spark off upsets that may have far reaching effects on the nervous system.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a cherry stoner?
A. A good cherry stoner is a new steel pen. Place the point of the pen in the pith and use the other end to scoop out the pits. This method will leave the cherry whole.

Q. How can I hasten the cooling of pudding?
A. By placing the container in a dish of cold water, to which a handful of salt has been added.

Q. How should white furniture be cleaned?
A. Clean white enamel furniture with turpentine and it will retain its gloss.

Contract Bridge

EXPERTS HAVE TROUBLES,
Average players are not alone in finding freak hands difficult to bid — the highest-rated experts often experience the same difficulty. Here, for example, is a hand that brought very bad results to most of the East-West pairs in a national tournament.

West dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

♠ 98
♥ 98652
♦ J10984
♣ 3

♠ A J 10
♥ 6 5 4 3
♦ A 10 7
♣ K J 7

As may be imagined, considering the freakish nature of the East-West hands, the bidding took many different courses at the various tables, but the following sequence enjoyed some popularity:

West	North	East	South
1♠	Pass	1♠	Pass
3♠	Pass	3♠	Pass
3NT	Pass	6♣	Pass
6NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

These East-West pairs earned better-than-average scores, since 12 tricks were readily available against any opening lead.

One West passed to his partner's six-spade bid — a decision that brought his pair a "bottom" when East went down two. West later argued that he had been afraid of not being able to reach East's hand at notrump; he pointed out (reasonably) that East might have had better spades but nothing on the side.

Several pairs reached six clubs through more judicious cooperation on East's part, but the top pairs were the very few who bid as follows:

West	North	East	South
1♠	Pass	1♠	Pass
3♠	Pass	3♠	Pass
3NT	Pass	4♣	Pass
6♣	Pass	6♥	Pass
7♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

PATTERN 406

If you want the family to treat your pipes with proper respect, make a rack for them that will do them proud and let it include humidifier drawers that will keep your favorite tobacco moist. The larger of these two pipe racks also has a handy drawer for pipe cleaners and odds and ends. It is seventeen inches high, twelve inches wide and displays a dozen pipes. The smaller rack is the same width but only two-thirds as high and holds a half-dozen. Clear pine or any wood that takes a high polish would be the kind to use. The humidifiers are air-tight glass jars. The pattern gives tracing diagrams for the shaped parts as well as the steps in assembling and finishing. Ask for pattern 406 and enclose 35c.
