Premier Shaw Unveils Mace

The Mace, which is to be presented to the Prince Edward Island Legislative Assembly following the reading of the Throne Speech when the House opens on Thursday, was unveiled for members of the press yesterday by Premier Walter R. Shaw.

The Mace will be presented by a delegation representing the Canadian Branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association. Heading the delegation will be Hon. Alan Macnaughton, former speaker of the House of Commons, and T.R. Montgomery, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Area Council of the Association.

The Mace is four and a half feet long, weighs about 22 pounds and is made of gold-plated silver. It was designed by Birks and Sons of Ottawa.

The head is in the shape of a crown, under which are crests of the provinces of Canada in color. Under the provincial crests is engraved the Crest of Canada. Below the Crest of Canada is an inscription in English and French that sets forth the donors and the occasion.

Immediately below the inscription the provincial flower, the Lady's Slipper, is embossed. On the shaft of the Mace are two protuberances which also have the Slipper embossed on them.

The inscription reads, "Presented to the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island by the Federal and Provincial Branches of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association to commemorate the 100th Anniversary of the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation in Charlottetown in 1864."

Premier Shaw paid tribute to Wendall MacKay, his executive assistant in 1960 who, said the Premier, "with great personal initiative, spearheaded the effort to obtain a Mace for this Province."

Mr. Shaw pointed out Mr. MacKay was assisted in these efforts by the then Minister of Fisheries, Hon. J. Angus MacLean and Heath Macquarrie, MP.

The decision of the Parliamentary Association to donate the Mace was taken when they met in Charlottetown in September 1964, but due to difficulties in design, manufacture and other considerations it was not possible to arrange the presentation until this sitting of the Legislature.

The Mace always precedes the Speaker's chair in the House. It is carried by the Serjeant-at-Arms, but remains under the Speaker's control. When the Speaker takes the Chair it is laid across the table with the head pointing towards the Government benches.

In the P.E.I. Legislature the Mace will point in the opposite direction from every other provincial legislature in the country as the government benches in the P.E.I. Legislature are on the left of the Speaker. Normally the government sits on the Speaker's right. One tale explaining the reason the P.E.I. Government sits on the left is that in the past the stove was on the Speaker's left and it was the most comfortable side of the room during the cold winter days that the House sat.

The inscription reads, "Presented to the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island by the Federal and Provincial Branches of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association to commemorate the 100th Anniversary of the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation in Charlottetown in 1864."

Premier Shaw paid tribute to Wendall MacKay, his executive assistant in 1960 who, said the Premier, "with great personal initiative, spearheaded the effort to obtain a Mace for this Province."

Guest Speaker Develops Theme

"Put a book in the hands of your child," was the theme developed by Mrs. Esther Pletch librarian at Spring Park School when she spoke at a meeting of the Spring Park Home and School Association Feb. 15.

Mrs. Pletch had prepared a list of recommended books for the parents. It was suggested that parents might buy a good book, let their children read it, and then donate it, inscribed with the name of its donor, to the school library.

Parents bought second hand books to be donated to the children's wards in hospitals.

Under the direction of Mrs. Doris McKay and Mrs. James Lapsley, decorations were carried out by the students and included book covers and trees of knowledge growing out of the books.

The gathering to honor Mr. and Mrs. William Matheson of Rose Valley on their 50th wedding anniversary was held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Waddell, Albany. Accompanists for the musical portion of the entertainment were John Thompson, West Royalty; Mrs. Lawrence Molyneux, Warren Grove; and Miss Margaret Dawn Matheson, Southport. Errors and dropped lines in Monday's story confused this information.

The first charge heard for the alleged break into Nelson's Esso Service Station, Cherry Valley, witnesses for the crown included Edison Clifford Nelson and Mrs. E.C. Nelson, Regina Earl Taylor, proprietor of Taylor's Jewellery in Charlottetown, Cpl. Calvin Bungay of the RCMP, and RCMP

consistables Harry Burns, a and Donald Shears.

The police were called to the Nelson station at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 20, 1965 and arrived approximately nine o'clock. Const. Shears investigated.

The two accused were picked up on Queen Street, Charlottetown at three o'clock that afternoon by Cpl. Bungay and Const. Burns.

On the second count, the alleged break-in at Boswell's Irving Station, Mr. Albion, the case was adjourned on request by Mr. Scates to Monday, Feb. 22 at 9:30. The reason for the adjournment was in order to have a witness who was unable to attend, testify. Mr. Sigsworth acted as counsel for Gass and Strickland was without counsel on the second charge.

The witness for the crown included Arnold Boswell, operator of the station, Rosser Bruce an employee of Mr. Boswell's, Constable Burns of the RCMP, Constable Shears of the RCMP and Cpl. Bungay a member of the RCMP.

The alleged break was discovered by Mr. Boswell at approximately 7:30 a.m. Oct. 20, 1965 and the RCMP arrived at about 10 that same morning to investigate. Constable Shears also investigated this incident.

The two accused were charged on this count after they were picked up at three o'clock on Queen street by Const. Burns and Cpl. Bungay.

Reported missing from the Nelson station were a watch valued less than $50 owned by Mrs. Nelson, and a small amount of money. Money from a pop machine and a rifle and an electric razor plus pennies stored under the office counter were reported missing from Mr. Boswell's station.

When a few students clapped for the NDP associate-state policy for Quebec, Mr. Dietsenbaker said:

"That's about the proportion in Canada."

He also told the students if Canada had accepted the Fulton-Favreau formula for amending the Canadian constitution, Parliament would have ceased to exist as the central authority.

Trinity Men's Ass'n Honors Brooklyn Trio

MONTAGUE — Trinity Men's Association, Montague, was host to the Brooklyn Trio last night at their monthly dinner meeting. The trio consisting of Malcolm Munro, Willard Bruce and Johnny Bears were presented with engraved trays by the club and were congratulated by all on their record performance of over 37 years of service to the community.

This trio, well known throughout the province, spends many days each year singing at weddings, church and sport gatherings, concerts, funerals, festivals and church choirs. A member of the men's association who has known them for many years stated that he doubted if any trio anywhere had served so long and so well.

Also in attendance and a member of the men's association was Herb MacLeod, who is the last surviving member of the Dundas Quartet. Mr. MacLeod now lives in Montague and attends each monthly meeting of the association.

Following a dinner of corned beef and cabbage, catered by the United Church Women a program of singing by the Brooklyn Trio, a quartet consisting of Mrs. Helen Coffin, Mrs. Arnold Wightman, and Douglas Coffin was enjoyed. Mr. MacLeod also sang a solo.

Arnold Vandierstine, president of the mens club presided. C.J. Fraser was in charge of the devotional period; J.A. Annear led the singing; Rev. Russell Burns led in prayer.

Mayor B.H. Yeo, who is also a member of the association, spoke briefly and congratulated the Brooklyn Trio on their years of service and suggested that they should sing at his funeral in the distant future.

A highlight of the program was an amusing interview of the Brooklyn Trio by Dr. A.E. Ings, which was taped for future reference.

Moving pictures of the event were taken by Archie Hilehey and pictures for slides by G. Arnold Wightman.

The preliminary hearing for Barry Joseph Gass of Charlottetown and Douglas Joseph Strickland, Marshfield, both charged on two counts of break, entry and theft began last night at the Queens County Magistrate Court Magistrate James B. Johnston, presided. Alan K. Scates acted as counsel for the crown and Frank Sigsworth was counsel for Barry Joseph Gass. Douglas Joseph Strickland was not represented by counsel.

On the first count which was heard last night Gass was committed to stand trial before judge and jury at the next sitting of the Supreme Court. Strickland was dismissed of the charge because of insufficient evidence produced by the crown.

The first charge heard for the alleged break into Nelson's Esso Service Station, Cherry Valley, witnesses for the crown included Edison Clifford Nelson and Mrs. E.C. Nelson, Regina Earl Taylor, proprietor of Taylor's Jewellery in Charlottetown, Cpl. Calvin Bungay of the RCMP, and RCMP

consistables Harry Burns, a and Donald Shears.

The police were called to the Nelson station at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 20, 1965 and arrived approximately nine o'clock. Const. Shears investigated.

The two accused were picked up on Queen Street, Charlottetown at three o'clock that afternoon by Cpl. Bungay and Const. Burns.

On the second count, the alleged break-in at Boswell's Irving Station, Mr. Albion, the case was adjourned on request by Mr. Scates to Monday, Feb. 22 at 9:30. The reason for the adjournment was in order to have a witness who was unable to attend, testify. Mr. Sigsworth acted as counsel for Gass and Strickland was without counsel on the second charge.

The witness for the crown included Arnold Boswell, operator of the station, Rosser Bruce an employee of Mr. Boswell's, Constable Burns of the RCMP, Constable Shears of the RCMP and Cpl. Bungay a member of the RCMP.

The alleged break was discovered by Mr. Boswell at approximately 7:30 a.m. Oct. 20, 1965 and the RCMP arrived at about 10 that same morning to investigate. Constable Shears also investigated this incident.

The two accused were charged on this count after they were picked up at three o'clock on Queen street by Const. Burns and Cpl. Bungay.

Reported missing from the Nelson station were a watch valued less than $50 owned by Mrs. Nelson, and a small amount of money. Money from a pop machine and a rifle and an electric razor plus pennies stored under the office counter were reported missing from Mr. Boswell's station.

When a few students clapped for the NDP associate-state policy for Quebec, Mr. Dietsenbaker said:

"That's about the proportion in Canada."

He also told the students if Canada had accepted the Fulton-Favreau formula for amending the Canadian constitution, Parliament would have ceased to exist as the central authority.

Not all who showed up were Conservatives and sporadic heckling broke out.

The hecklers were overmatched. The old campaigner thanked the students for "audience participation" and rattled off veeptries developed through many election campaigns.

Experts Will Attend Beef Ass'n Meeting

Two of "the top men in Canada" in their fields will be here next month for a province-wide meeting of the Prince Edward Island Beef Producers Association, President Leo P. McIsaac told The Guardian last night.

George Morris, Merin, Ontario operates a large feed lot of steers and knows probably more about corn silage than any other Canadian, Mr. McIsaac suggests.

The other man is Dr. W.C. MacAskill, chief veterinarian with Cyanimid of Canada and Mr. McIsaac regards this man as one of the top men in the country on Urea, a synthetic protein that has come to play a large part in the livestock feed situation.

Mr. Morris is not only a practical farmer who feeds and finishes a large quantity of steers, he's president of the Ontario Beef Producers' Association, and is active in the Kent County association.

This man has been working for years on corn silage and has done a great deal of work on this type of feed with the Michigan State people, the president of the Island beef producers adds.

"IS TOP DOG" Dr. MacAskill "is the top dog" in the Urea field and we're extremely fortunate to get him here for our meeting, Mr. McIsaac observes.

The March 16 meeting will get underway in the afternoon at 2.30. There'll be a beef steak dinner about five o'clock, with a further discussion after that.

The idea is to get the men away perhaps around eight o'clock, early enough to get home and clean up their barn work. But the actual closing hour will naturally depend a great deal on the people themselves and how long they want to discuss their problems, it is explained.

Glen Cotton, provincial beef fieldman, is working at present lining up the meetings which are expected to be held in the Kensington and Souris areas in the near future. Dates will be announced later, Mr. McIsaac said.

The speakers for the big Charlottetown meeting were lined up by Mr. McIsaac when he was in Toronto attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture—he was a delegate from the FEIFA.

He says that the Canadian Cattlemen's Association and the CFA are planning now for a beef producers' meeting on a national basis in the spring. It will be similar, Mr. McIsaac suggests, to the National hog conference sponsored a few years ago.

On April 22, 1960, Pine Hill Theological College bestowed on the Rev. Mr. Wilson the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Mrs. Wilson, the former Louella Temple of Waverley, N.S., passed away in West Covehead on April 17, 1967.

He is survived by his daughter, Margaret Helen, and his son Eric Temple, Sherwood.

The funeral will be held in Park Royal United Church. Time of service to be announced later.

HONORED OLD FISHERS Businessman Helvidan Rode of Brooklyn gave $1,000 to his Norwegian home town to build a statue honoring herring fishermen.
